

The Choices You Make

Life is full of choices. You make choices every day. Sometimes you must make choices that may affect your education, your relationships, and yourself.

Read the following scenarios and put an \times on the choice you would make then explain why you made the choice you did.

Is your perfect teacher. . .

_____ A teacher who tells great jokes, does not believe in homework, and is very lenient.

or

_____ A teacher who always assigns homework, tells great jokes, and has a very organized classroom.

Why? _____

If you saw your best friend cheat on the math test would you. . .

_____ Inform the teacher about what you saw and risk losing your best friend.

or

_____ Tell your friend that you saw them cheating and offer to go with them to the teacher and tell her what happened.

Why? _____

Your friend has invited you to go on a terrific, fun-filled day trip. It is your mother's birthday. Would you...

_____ Decline the invitation to spend the day with your mom.

or

_____ Tell your mom Happy Birthday and go with your friend on this fun filled adventure.

Why? _____
